

Are You Qualified To Vote?

By Pete Otwyler
Tomorrow is the last chance for some 3,000 people in Monroe County to qualify for voting in November.
It's the last day for registration.
"If you're still not registered after tomorrow, don't bother reading the columns about Ike and Adlai. Don't listen to the arguments of local candidates. Switch off the campaign speeches on the radio. And, you may as well keep your opinion to yourself when it comes to a neighborly wrangle over some government issue."

Why? Because it's a hollow thing to hand out your opinion in the office, shop or street when you can't express it at the polls.

If you're not registered when the courthouse closes at 5 p.m. tomorrow, you're the same as politically caponized.

The rooster has a right to be aggressive. He's entitled to crow. He contributes to his barnyard and he fights to keep his position and rights.

As for the capon, he sits around, gets fat and complacent, and as a result—gets thoroughly roasted.

If you're not registered after tomorrow you've thrown your political money down the drain, let your personal property—your vote—wash down the river out of sheer neglect.

If you're not registered after tomorrow it's as though the law and your whole society stood up, singled you out with a pointed finger and said:

"You, Mister (or Lady, or Son, or Sister)—we don't care what you think, who you know or how much money you have in the bank—you are forbidden to vote this year!"

It sounds like a penalty . . . a vicious penalty for an American. And it is. A penalty for neglect and indifference. Yours.

Tomorrow, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., is the last chance for registration.

It's the day for committeemen and women of both parties to take off the wraps in getting non-registered residents to the courthouse.

It's the day for families to put the bee on any member who should be registered and isn't.

It's the day for skipping the canning or golf game and going to the courthouse instead.

It's the day for women to quit talking about equal rights and start using them.

It's the day to wake up to the fact it's better to vote and pay your occupation tax than do neither.

It's the day to become a Citizen instead of just a resident.

It's the day to realize that the meager effort you pay in walking into the courthouse—and later, to the polls.

It's the day to put your Americanism down on paper—in the form of your name on a registration certificate.

It's the day one of two things will happen:

Either you'll allow your integrity to become a moldy hash . . . or you'll greet one of the registration clerks at the courthouse . . . and you'll have plenty of company.

It's the day to junk that moth-eaten chatter about "my vote doesn't count." It's better to light one candle than to curse the darkness.

Soviets Call Off Blockade

Berlin, (AP)—Soviet Gen. Vassily Chuikov called off yesterday a blockade against movement of U.S. military police patrols over a strip of Soviet zone highway between West Berlin and an American checkpoint on its outskirts.

The chief of the Soviet Control Commission, to whom U. S. High Commissioner Walter J. Denny protested Wednesday, notified American authorities officially that the three-day-old restrictions had been lifted by his order.

Colonel Absolved

Washington (AP)—An Air Force board yesterday cleared Col. Allen W. Reed of any responsibility for the black market activities for which his wife was recently convicted in Germany.

8,000 Miners Idle

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Off again—on again wildcat strikes in the Southwestern Pennsylvania coal fields idled 8,000 miners in 10 pits yesterday.

177 New Voters Registered For General Election

It looked last night as though registration for the county will top 18,000 this year.

The four weary registration clerks checked out of the courthouse at 9 p.m. after signing up 177 voters throughout the day.

It brought the year's total so far to an unofficial 17,923—or 77 short of the 18,000 point.

There are still an estimated 3,037 potential voters who haven't registered, but the lists are still open today and tomorrow.

Of this year's total, 1,544 have registered since March 1.

Last night's 17,923 equals about 85.6 per cent of the potential registrants and about 53 per cent of the county's population.

The total is 365 higher than the all-time high for general elections set in 1936, and is 816 higher than the total registration last year.

Registration will be conducted at the courthouse today from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Tomorrow, the last day this year for non-registered residents to sign up, registration will go on from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Brief, Spectacular Blaze Damages Work Rooms At Rear Of Wyckoff's Store

Fire shot skyward along a creosote-soaked telephone pole and blazed on the porch of the Wyckoff work rooms in Quaker Alley, Stroudsburg, at 10:45 p. m. yesterday.

Three short honks of the alarm blast brought Stroudsburg fire engines racing to the scene. Seven converged on the burning building and pole from the N. Fifth St. and Sixth St. ends of the alley.

Car Upsets, Bounds Back On Wheels

A reckless driving charge was lodged against an East Stroudsburg RFD man following an accident in which his car turned on its side and bounced back on its wheels again on the south side of Foxtown Hill yesterday.

The driver was Frank Counterman, 56, who was driving south down the grade at about 1:30 p.m. Police said Counterman's car veered diagonally across the highway, hit a hole on the far lane rolled over onto its side, hit a new hole and bounced back onto all four wheels.

Pfc. Evan Chaplin of the Stroudsburg station filed the reckless driving charge with John Brislin, Stroud Township justice of the peace.

Counterman suffered six broken ribs and cuts on his left arm and forehead. He was admitted to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, for treatment.

Pfc. Chaplin said damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Church Women Refused Vote

Boston (AP)—After lively debate, the Protestant Episcopal House of Deputies—one of the church's two legislative bodies—yesterday defeated a proposal to allow women to vote in the important general convention.

A majority of clerical delegates favored amending the church's Constitution to read "lay deputies, men or women" instead of "laymen." However the laymen combined with the clerical minority to reject the measure.

Episcopalian women have been working for opportunity to join in deliberations of the House of Deputies ever since the triennial general convention was last held in Boston in 1904.

Bolich Indicted For Evading Income Taxes; Had Quit Under Fire As No. 2 Revenue Man

New York, (AP)—The former No. 2 man of the federal Internal Revenue Bureau was indicted yesterday on charges of evading his own income taxes.

He is Daniel A. Bolich, 52, a veteran of 29 years on the public payroll.

If convicted, he faces a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison plus a $50,000 fine. The indictment lodges five separate counts against him.

Bolich was an unwilling and silent witness earlier this year before a congressional subcommittee inquiring into tax scandals. The committee claimed information that Bolich "received considerable sums of money under . . . suspicious circumstances."

Bolich quit last November in the midst of the House ways and means subcommittee inquiry. He gave his health as his reason. He then was assistant revenue commissioner, second-ranking official of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

A special federal grand jury in Brooklyn accused him of cheating his own bureau out of $7,444 in personal income taxes.

The indictment said he reported a total income from 1946 through 1950 of $54,771 and paid only $6,883 in taxes on it.

Actually, the grand jury charged, Bolich made $83,314 during those years and should have paid $14,328 in taxes.

FIVE CENTS

For 'Whole GOP Ticket'

First Speech Scheduled September 17

By The Associated Press

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will make his first speech for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and "the whole Republican party ticket" at Springfield, Ohio, Sept. 17.

The date was announced as Taft arrived in New York late yesterday for his first post-convention conference with the Republican presidential nominee—a meeting which may decide the role Taft will play in the fall campaigning.

The news that Taft will take the stump and go right down the line for the GOP candidates came from the Cincinnati headquarters of Taft's brother, Charles P. Taft, Republican nominee for governor of Ohio. A spokesman said the senator authorized the announcement.

It did not mention Eisenhower by name, but the spokesman said it embraced the whole ticket headed by Eisenhower.

Sen. Taft lost the presidential nomination to Eisenhower after a bitter battle at the Chicago convention. He promised to support the general in the campaign, but there has been speculation lately that the strength of his support would depend a good deal on whether Eisenhower went along with some of Taft's views on foreign and domestic affairs.

The general and the senator will have breakfast together at 7:30 a.m. today.

On the other side of the country, in Los Angeles, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, took up the issue of corruption in government and told a Town Hall audience "the belief that Democrats are extravagant and Republicans are provident as part of a phony folklore you will do well to examine carefully."

Stevenson said that while Eisenhower claimed corruption was the only issue in the campaign, he thought it was the only one the Republicans could agree on.

Acheson Says Ike Proposal Risks Disaster

Kansas City, (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson, in obvious reply to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, said last night that any attempt to liberate Communist-dominated countries by force is "a positive prescription for disaster."

"We believe, as anyone must who shares the democratic faith, that free societies can and will be more durable, and that ultimately they must exercise a strong attraction that will shift the balance in our favor," Acheson said.

"But if through impatience or impudence, we are urged to try to bring this shift about by force, if we are urged to seek the 'liberation' of territories or peoples by force, this advice would be neither realistic nor responsible."

"If this is what is meant by being more 'positive,' then it is in fact a positive prescription for disaster."

In his Sept. 4 speech at Philadelphia, GOP presidential nominee Eisenhower criticized Truman-Acheson foreign policy as inadequate, and said "there is . . . need to bring hope and every peaceful aid to the world's enslaved peoples."

He stressed that he was advocating action by "only peaceful means." But Democrats have contended that such a course, as urged by John Foster Dulles, an Eisenhower adviser, would run the risk of touching off atomic war.

Fine Sees Some Good In McCarthy

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine said yesterday he could see a little good in Sen. Joseph McCarthy and never wanted to sell him short.

The statement was made at the northeast regional conference of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women held at Irem Temple County Club, Dallas.

"McCarthy has done some things with which we could not all agree, he said. 'However, his labors and efforts have helped to clean out from Washington some subversives,' Fine said.

"It isn't necessary to burn down the barn when you find a few rats in it, a cat or a rat-trap will do the job. And if we're going to clean out the rats in Washington I'm willing to go as far as Wisconsin to get a rat-trap to do it," Fine declared.

At Least Four Lose Lives In Central Texas Floods

San Saba, Tex., (AP)—Central Texas rivers, fed by near-record torrential rains and broken dams, went on record rampages yesterday, taking at least four lives and sending 100 or more families fleeing from their homes.

Helicopters rescued some persons from rooftops and trees.

Siamese Twin Boys May Be Separated

Chicago, (AP)—An attempt probably will be made this Fall to separate the year-old Siamese twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie of East Moline, Ill.

Announcement of the anticipated effort to separate them was made yesterday by the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The twins, Roger and Rodney Brodie, were born Sept. 16, 1951, joined together at the top of their heads. Their legs point in opposite directions.

When they were a month old, they were brought to the University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospital to see if separation would be possible. They have been there ever since.

The hospital conducted extensive tests which showed the twins had a congenital heart condition that made surgery unwise when they were tiny infants. Now, however, the AMA Journal says, their "slight heart murmurs" have not affected the functioning of their hearts and the children are "in very good condition."

They were found to have separate nervous systems, separate circulatory systems, and separate brains.

The doctors, the AMA Journal said, now have decided that an operation to separate them is feasible. Some preparatory surgery already has been completed, the article said, including plastic surgery, bone surgery and nerve surgery.

Only two such operations have ever before been attempted, it stated. Both resulted in death.

Scranton Firm Told To Halt Discriminations

Washington (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission yesterday ordered the International Salt Co., of Scranton, Pa., one of the biggest salt producers in the country, to halt price discriminations in the sale of table salt.

The order also applies to the company's wholly owned subsidiary, Eastern Salt Co., of Boston.

The commission said the companies discriminated by charging lower prices to certain favored outlets than were charged to competitors for the same brand, grade and quality of salt.

No Trace Of Convicts

Lewisburg (AP)—Federal authorities yesterday checked out a number of auto thefts and robberies without finding any definite leads on three escaped convicts from the Northeastern U.S. Penitentiary.

Truce Talks Resume

Munich (AP)—Korean armistice parleys resumed today at Panmunjom with nothing to indicate any chance for a break in the critical deadlock on prisoner exchange, the big block to a truce.

Heavy Guns, Planes Hit Red Troops

Seoul (AP)—Allied war planes and big guns blasted Chinese positions near Capitol Hill last night to ease the pressure on weary South Korean troops who smashed two savage counterattacks.

U. S. Fifth Air Force B26 night bombers—using radar-aiming gear—pounded Communist artillery and mortar positions in the Korean Central Front sector while the Republic of Korea (ROK) soldiers dug in deeper on the scarred slopes.

Allied artillery opened up, too, in a huge barrage answering a Chinese bombardment earlier yesterday in which the Reds poured 30 shells a minute at the ROK positions on Capitol Hill.

The U. S. Eighth Army communique reported 200 dead Chinese were counted on the muddy slopes after the Reds were hurled back in bitter, close-quarter infantry fighting Wednesday night and early yesterday.

The communique said another 300 Reds were estimated killed—raising estimated Communist casualties in the Capitol Hill fighting to at least 2,700.

Two Persons Injured On Route 611

Two persons were injured in the collision of two cars at 10:25 p. m. Wednesday about four miles north of Stroudsburg on Route 611.

They were Norman Elliot Jr., 24, Greenwood RD 2, Del., and his wife, 23. Elliot suffered a cut on the right knee and his wife, a scalp cut. Neither was hospitalized.

Pfc. Joseph Murphy of the Stroudsburg station said they were passengers in a car operated by James W. Maher, 23, 6cels, Maine, who was driving south.

The other vehicle, driven by John Kresge, Stroudsburg RD 3, was halted in the center lane waiting to make a left turn, police said.

Maher told police he started to pass a coal truck, and when he got out into the center lane saw the other car just ahead. His car hit the rear end of the other vehicle, Maher said.

Damages were estimated as $500 to the entire front end of Maher's car and $400 to the rear end of the Kresge car. Maher's auto was towed to the Bush Garage, Bartonsville. The other car was driven away.

Loaded Bus Just Misses Being Hit By Boulders

Ambridge (AP)—A hundred tons of boulders crashed down on busy Constitution Boulevard yesterday just after a heavily loaded bus passed by. It was the exact spot where another landslide sliced a bus in half and killed 22 riders in 1942.

The Woodlawn and Southern bus which had the narrow escape near the Ambridge-Allegheny bridge was loaded with steelworkers going to their jobs at the Allegheny works of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp.

No one was injured in the new landslide although traffic was blocked. In 1942, hundreds labored for hours to remove the bodies of the victims. Only four of the bus occupants escaped in that tragedy.

Employment Bureau Acts To Avoid Possible Labor Shortage

Seek Approval Of Nonunion Men At Depot

The Pennsylvania Bureau of Employment Security this week opened a new full-time unit office at the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Supply Depot with an eye toward securing union approval for the hiring of non-union construction workers there.

Space for the unit was provided by the government in one of its buildings on the depot site, Dr. Frank Maguire, regional chief of the BES said last night.

The new office is staffed with interviewers from the employment service office in East Stroudsburg, Maguire said.

Carl J. Denz, formerly with the East Stroudsburg unit, has been named acting manager of the depot office.

A meeting between employment service officials and union leaders has been arranged for 10 a.m. Monday, Maguire said.

The potential hiring of unorganized construction workers would be a step taken to avoid a possible shortage of union workers available for depot project contractors.

A proposal will be submitted to the union leaders Monday outlining procedures whereby non-union workers might be hired with the issuance of a "temporary" union card which would be valid for the duration of the project.

This "duration of the project" proposal has already received the approval of employees, BES officials said yesterday.

Employment officials emphasize that the unorganized workers would be required to secure the "temporary" union cards upon employment at the depot project.

Hiring of non-union employees by the contractors and sub-contractors would apparently be coordinated through the unions who control workers on the project.

Employment officials are quick to point out, however, that the current plan calls for the hiring of construction workers only and does not, in any way, involve the hiring of staff workers at the depot itself.

Only workers who might be hired by the three basic and 35 sub-contractors at the depot for use in the final phases of construction would be affected by the proposed agreement.

Two-Party System Must Be Strengthened If Democracy Is To Survive, Rotarians Told

The two-party system in the nation must not only be maintained, but strengthened, if a democracy is to survive and citizens must not only be interested in but get into politics, B. K. Williams, Republican county chairman and delegate to the GOP National Convention told members of the Stroudsburg Rotary Club yesterday.

Introduced by J. L. Cohen, program chairman who pointed out that a week ago the members had heard from Harold C. Edwards, delegate to the Democratic National Convention, Mr. Williams said he hesitated at first because he feared he might say something of a political nature.

He proceeded with a description of his experiences at the GOP convention, but most of his remarks were dedicated to an effort to sell the idea that citizens must first preserve their democracy by maintaining a strong two-party system.

"If we did not have such a system, you would not be here in this club eating together and I would not be able to stand before you and talk," Mr. Williams asserted.

During the course of his description of the convention, Mr. Williams emphasized that issues before the convention and general action there brought great tensions.

He said he was surprised to

B. K. Williams

learn so many people were so critical of Gov. Fine and pointed out "if you had been there under those tensions you would have been a little less harsh."

Mr. Williams' appeal for interest in politics by all citizens was accompanied by urgings that he return to "the common touch" which we seem to have lost.

Asserting his firm belief in rule by township, borough, then state and federal government, Williams pointed out in 1932 the debt burden per person was about $64 and today is $7,200.

He said it is senseless to send $127 to Harrisburg in taxes in order to get back $1.

"It is time we all take part in politics, not just for a day or week but 365 days a year," he warned.

"Regardless of politics, you should know your own party and your opposition party. You must become and stay interested in the honesty and welfare of your party, regardless of what your party is."

Williams said one of the evidences of this loss of interest is neglect of primary elections.

"Too many of us say—what's the use. If you put up the proper men, regardless of party, men who have the confidence of the people you can elect them."

Williams expressed belief that many functions now carried by the state should be taken over by local government, including public assistance.

Parents Ask Transportation For Pupils

A delegation of South Stroudsburg parents appeared before the Stroudsburg School Board at its regular meeting last night to request consideration of bus transportation facilities for children attending the schools from that area.

The parents, headed by Parke Kunkle, also asked the board to assist in the development of adequate safety measures for the children in transit between their homes and the school.

These precautionary measures, as outlined by the parents' group, would consist mainly of traffic control.

Members of the board pledged all the cooperation they could give the parents in the matter and referred it to the group for further study.

In other actions, the board appointed Herbert Crane as its representative on the State County Directors Association Legislative Council. The council meets Oct. 7 in Harrisburg.

It was announced that the borough system has hired Mrs. Clarence Dickson as custodial assistant in the high school building.

Stroudsburg Superintendent Earl Groener announced that Clarence Booth has returned to his duties as custodian of the Ramsey building following a period of service with the Seabees.

Groener also announced total enrollment figures for the school year: elementary—591; secondary—742, for a total enrollment of 1333.

The board authorized payment of $9,265.23 in bills by the treasurer. Financial report showed $26,465.85 remaining in the general fund.

Properties Transferred

Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Remy, Corry, Pa., sold two small lots in Tobyhanna Township at Naomi Pines, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the courthouse.

Grantee was Eunice Avery, Pocomo Pines. The lots are on Sullivan Road and Park Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Warke, Allentown, sold to Mr. and Mrs. John Zarlinsky, Emmaus, Pa., a small property in Tobyhanna Township on the Long Pond-Pocomo Lake road.

East Stroudsburg School Board Awards Contract For Bonds To Finance New Shop

East Stroudsburg School Board received five bids on a $40,000, 20-year bond issue which will pay for construction of a new shop building at the high school.

Winner was East Stroudsburg National Bank with a low bid of 1.5 per cent. The bonds will be retired at the rate of $2,000 worth a year.

Other bidders were Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., and Monroe County National Bank, at 2.5 per cent each; Fauset, Steel and Co., Pittsburgh, at 2.75 plus a $161.60 premium, and Kidder Peabody Co., at 2 3/8.

The foundation for the new building already has been completed and it is expected that laying of concrete blocks and bricks will begin in a week or two. Completion is expected by Nov. 1. The building will be situated on the old Maplehurst property adjoining the school on N. Courtland St.

The board set Oct. 16 as the date for a joint dinner meeting with neighboring school districts which send tuition students to East Stroudsburg High School. These include Stroud, Middletown, Smithfield, Mount Pocono, Delaware Water Gap, Portland, Upper Mount Bethel, and in Pike County, Lehman and Porter Townships.

The dinner will be given by the home economics class of the Junior High School at the Junior High building.

The board also gave permission for Station WVFO to broadcast the school's football games this season.

Ban Extends To Taprooms

Lock Haven, Pa.—The Lock Haven Board of Health, in a new strike against the spread of infantile paralysis, yesterday extended its ban on public gatherings to include public taprooms and private clubs.

Previous orders had closed the schools, theaters and churches as a possible preventative of the disease which has swept Clinton and adjoining Lycoming and Centre Counties.

The board extended its order to drinking places after a minister threatened to hold church services on Sunday unless clubs and taprooms, where people also gathered in numbers, were closed.

So far no industries in this city of 12,000 persons have been shut down, although business in the center of town has dwindled with a lightning of traffic.

On Second Thought

Gerhard Eisler, who did pretty well as a top Communist agent in the United States, has come a cropper in his new assignment in East Berlin.

The Soviet zone propaganda chief is sharply criticized in the Soviet Control Commission's official newspaper for failure to combat western "slander," and mistakes of "omission and commission," plus failure to heed the precepts of Communist leaders.

If past experiences of other Communist leaders who have fallen from grace may be taken as a criterion in Eisler's case, the best he can hope for is to resign quietly. He may be purged.

Eisler, who exoriated the United States in the bitterest language, may yet wish he had not jumped bail here and gone to join his Communist pals overseas.

Habeas Martini

In New Orleans, one member of a jury complained that the jurors were served cocktails before their meal, beer and wine during it, and mixed drinks afterward. The judge replied that "none of the litigants is any the worse for it."

Maybe not, but the juror was right. Everyone knows mixed drinks shouldn't be served after dinner.

The Essential Auto

Things and services that the tax-imposers regard as luxuries, especially if they are regarded as just a little bit sinful, get great big taxes attached to their sales prices. Take, for example, whisky. It's nearly all tax. And cigaretts. Well over half of the price of a pack of cigarettes goes to the tax collectors.

Autos, and things that are used to keep autos running, are sort of in that class too.

The tax-imposers would probably deny that they had any thought of the auto being sinful. But their actions are strong indications that they regard the auto as a luxury.

An article in the August "Coronet" declares that the average owner of a medium-priced car paid $119.17 in taxes in 1950. They include gasoline taxes, licenses, excise taxes and highway tolls.

The sum of $119.17 is a lot of money for an average man to be paying in taxes on just one phase of his activities. The magazine article may be correct when it says that the motorist is "the nation's undisputed No. 1 sucker."

Who is the motorist? Why, just about everybody. This country has 40 million passenger autos. There aren't many more families and non-family spending units.

And what are their cars used for? Maybe, once in a while, for an evening or Sunday afternoon spin. Maybe, occasionally, for a vacation trip.

More often they take the men to work, the children to school, the wives to market.

Autos may sometimes be fun, but they also are necessities in modern America. We discovered that during the war.

Why, then are they taxed almost like whisky, and cigarettes, and perfume?

Tobacco smoking originated with the Indians of the western hemisphere, probably as early as 100 A.D.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The Policing Of Movies

Roy M. Brewer, chairman of the Hollywood A. F. L. Film Council, is one of the better labor leaders of the country. Devoted to the preservation of the American civilization, he has driven Communists and other subversives out of his union by exposure of their methods and tactics.

Brewer has addressed a letter to the House Committee on Un-American Activities which raises an important issue. American Communists or their allies, who cannot get work in the United States because they are serving our enemy, Soviet Russia, find it advantageous to work in Europe.

This is, for them, a double opportunity: first, they get work; secondly, they reduce or altogether avoid paying their income taxes. They thus serve Stalin at the expense of the American taxpayer.

Brewer in his letter says: "Persons who have been identified as Communists by your Committee can no longer find employment in the motion picture industry in Hollywood. Few can even obtain facilities to produce pictures on their own. As a result, many such persons have gone to England, France, Mexico, Italy, and other countries to produce films. They are now trying to bring these films back in to the American market and show them in American theatres."

Brewer then calls upon the House Committee "... to initiate legislation at once which will prohibit the importation of films which have been produced in whole or in part by persons who have membership in or loyalty to the Communist party. Failure to prevent importation of such films will make a mockery of the work which all of us have done in eliminating Communists from Hollywood and will greatly harm our industry and the loyal men and women who make their livelihood from it—men and women who have for the most part spearheaded the fight to drive Communists and Communism from the motion picture industry."

Congressman Donald L. Jackson, of California, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, replies to Brewer's proposal: "... It would appear that the union, controlling as they do the physical operation necessary to the projection of films, might well be able to preclude the showing of any films in which identified Communists or Communist sympathizers were involved."

"Such action probably would be more desirable than a bill barring importation of such pictures. Although it is possible for Brewer's union to do what Jackson proposes, that is, to withdraw the operators of projection machines when pictures including subversives appear among the personnel, Mr. Jackson's idea is altogether wrong. He would delegate to a labor union, albeit an excellent one, police powers.

His Committee has existed since 1938 and has held hearings that have produced millions of words of evidence with the sole objective of informing itself in preparation for the writing of suitable legislation. That is the only reason for the existence of his Committee. When a responsible labor union official, one who has supported the Committee's purposes, proposes a necessary act of legislation, Mr. Jackson ducks the problem and puts it to the union to perform the work of the government.

This proposition is particularly unfortunate because the criticism that has been made against the anti-Communist group in Hollywood has been that they usurp the police powers of the government. Congressman Jackson apparently prefers the boycott, the picket line and the strike to proper legislation by Congress and the enforcement of the law by due process.

The unions ought not to be placed in the position of assuming police responsibilities. Already, Brewer has stated that his union will be forced to prevent the showing of a motion picture, "Encounter," made in Italy. He wrote to the House Committee: "... We are communicating with the exhibitor organizations throughout America asking them not to purchase it. If both of

"She laughed when I sat down to play," admitted a Michigan sophomore, then added ruefully, "How did I know she was ticklish?"

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Sept. 11—President Truman ought to have the decency to quit spending our money unnecessarily between now and next January. To still the outcries of the Left - wingers, Mr. Truman has just approved the hiring of ten more high priced administration employees because he is sure at Congress.

Whether he knows it or not, three of the ten will be using taxpayer money to help keep Communists out of court and from spending their own cash to further their own causes.

The President set up a seven-member commission to review the nation's immigration and naturalization laws on the heels of a congressional study that required two years to cover the same ground. With the secretarial staff and salaries we'll be lucky if the President's new commission picks us for less than $100,000 before they are through.

Congress passed a new immigration law over Mr. Truman's veto in the past session, an act that stirred up loud wailing from the Left-wingers.

The State Department, with Mr. Truman's approval, has also just set up a three-man review board for the benefit of Communists denied passports for travel to Moscow and other front curtain centers of Communist culture.

It's a fact. The Passport Appeals Board, which may cost us only $50,000 a year extra, will function solely for the benefit of domestic Reds. The State Department admits it.

Senator Wayne Morse, ostensible Republican from the state of Oregon, had to remind the State Department, however, that it was neglecting the comrades. The Senator accused Mrs. Ruth R. Shipley, head of the passport division, of "arbitrary" action in denying travel authorization to subversive suspects. That is all Secretary of State Dean Acheson needed. He concocted the Passport Appeals Board forthwith.

Morse, of course, was joined in the outcry by the Left-wing press which made a big thing out of this horrible discrimination. So let's look at the record.

Mrs. Shipley's division so far this year has issued 350,000 passports for travel abroad. It has denied passports to only 95. In almost every instance passports were denied on the grounds of possible subversion or as being "inimical to the best interests of the U. S. A.," which is saying the same thing in a different way.

Communists, subversive suspects and anyone else denied a passport have the right to appeal the denial to any U. S. Court. They always have had the right. And the Communists have a multi-million dollar slush fund set aside for the specific purpose of taking their grievances to federal courts.

But Acheson and Mr. Truman decided to let us taxpayers pick up the tab from now on. The three-man - Passport Appeals Board will save the Communists considerable cash in fees for attorneys. Henceforth, presumably, they can in many cases get passports without bothering to go to court. They will be able to use the money presumably to raise the living standard of Soviet agents in the U.S.

Acheson hasn't announced the names of the Passport Appeals Board members as yet, but I know, and so do you, exactly the type of men they will be. So Morse and the Communists, at our expense, can now expand their travel plans.

The immigration study ordered by Mr. Truman was not the result of outcries from a senator. It had a much more dramatic flair. It resulted from a case in which a Finnish born American was picked up by the Immigration Service in Boston because he had been a Communist. He was ordered deported.

All of our Left-wingers were outraged. The Finn, Karl V. Latva, encouraged the weepers with heart rending tales of his love for America.

Latva admitted his Communist affiliation, but said he joined because somebody told him the party was a labor union. That sounded reasonable, coming from an immigrant unfamiliar with the morals of our domestic comrades. But when Latva appeared before the Immigration Service he had a lawyer who advised him, on the grounds of self-incrimination, to refuse to answer any questions about his Communist Party affiliations, if any. The case is now in the U. S. courts.

Latva has been the center of Left-wing and Communist attention before. In 1948 he was ordered deported. Abner Green, Executive Secretary of the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born, cited as a subversive organization, sped to Latva's rescue. The Daily Worker, on November 23, 1949, led the smear campaign against the Immigration Service. The same attack is being echoed today on Latva's behalf, but this time the Daily Worker has lots of company, and Mr. Truman apparently has listened in closely.

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

New York—Miss Laraine Day, tall and graceful and extremely lovely in a print dress, sat on the edge of a sofa in her Park Avenue apartment and looked meditatively at one small foot. She was wondering how soon it would be before it was in her mouth again.

Miss Day, whose driver's license says Mrs. Leo Durocher, has been doing a television show before the Giant ball games for some time now, and there was a five-week stretch last spring when she broadcast a disc-jockey show from a Lexington avenue restaurant, midnight to 3 a. m.

Miss Day has a mind—an inquisitive, whimsical, entertaining mind of her own. It was inevitable that sooner or later she was going to stir up controversy with something she telecast or broadcast. "I guess the biggest mess I ever got into," she said, grinning amiably, "was when I came out and said that Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers was a cry-baby. I wasn't being racially intolerant or anything golly, I had troubles of my own as a child because I was a Mormon—and I pointed out that Roy Campanella, also of the Dodgers, and Willie Mays and Monte Irvin of our club didn't cry because a pitcher threw too close to them."

"Boy — that was two, three years ago... and I'm still getting mail. My ears were scorching for weeks, with the thousands of letters that poured in. I'm still trying to live that one down."

Then there was the time, more recently, that the fair Miss Day booted about the ball clubs playing The Star Spangled Banner before each game. You would have thought she had a party card and a direct phone to the Kremlin.

"I'm as patriotic as anyone," Laraine said to me, a little grimly, "but I think that the national anthem doesn't belong being played before a professional sporting event at which admission is charged."

"It's almost sacrilegious. It ought to be saved for special occasions. You're supposed to be thinking about what you're listening to and how many people do? They're thinking, all the way through the song, 'I wonder if Maggie can last today.'"

Miss Day promptly enlisted my aid in that fight. During the war they used to play the anthem before fights and basketball games in Madison Square Garden — with the flag fluttering just a little too professionally, the lights dim and a spotlight on the banner. I don't think anyone ever told the Garden people at that time that the United States flag is not supposed to be flown after dark.

Still another time Laraine read somewhere that the ballplayers were thinking of forming a union, headed by that old friend and admirer of her husband, Happy Chandler (watch your language, boy). Miss Day came out on her TV show and said this seemed like so much silliness.

"What can a union do for a ballplayer?" she asked, with some logic. "It's about the only field of endeavor left where if you've got the talent you can be successful. If you haven't, you can't. You can be the worst guy in the world, but if you can hit, pitch or run you don't have to know anybody or butter up anyone. You deliver and you get paid."

This spectacular display of seeming impertinence almost got Miss Day drummed out of the United States. The unions shivered and shook and at one time she even was threatened with being picketed. The furor ultimately subsided, however, and Miss Day remained among the living.

Miss Day, slender, tanned, vital — the medical men would call her an ectomorph — said she felt that if she didn't raise issues like this, anybody else, except to INSURE THE HAPPINESS OF THE HUMAN RACE?

It is not good for the human being to THINK all the time or too much.

Only last week a prominent physician told me that the great majority of early deaths occur among those who do the greatest amount of THINKING.

The fact that Eisenhower CAN cook and LOVES to cook makes him more human to us. We get to know him better that way. We know that he is HUMAN. What's wrong with that? Stevenson's family problems give us a glimpse into Stevenson, the MAN.

Perhaps it is terribly important that Zsa Zsa Gabor and Corinne Calvet are having a feud about their shapes.

But if George Sokolsky could have been with me at a fashion show last week he might have recognized the importance of unimportance.

The show was a church benefit. The women were all good women, earnest women, fine women.

But you should have seen the rapt attention with which they hung on every single word of the interlocutor! The minister of the very church for which the benefit was held would have been happy if the women had hung on his words that way.

And I would like to bet you that almost every one of these women will go to the polls this coming November and vote RIGHT.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

If we were living in Europe now, I would challenge my colleague, George E. Sokolsky, to a duel.

Not that I don't like George. I DO like him. Not that I don't consider him an excellent columnist. He IS — one of the best.

But George, a good friend of mine, has attacked my honor as a pifflester.

Sokolsky is a deep thinker. He deals only with big problems. He is a sort of modern Atlas, who carries the world on his shoulders.

But he believes that ALL of us should do a lot of thinking; that we should ALL be interested in big problems; that we should ALL help Atlas with his load.

And so he wrote thusly in a recent column: "Undoubtedly the newspapers and the radio have played an important role in the lessening of serious discussion and in the glorification of individual characteristics. Frankly it is of no more importance that Eisenhower can cook or that Stevenson has a problem in his family life than that somebody by the name of Zsa Zsa should be in a row with somebody by the name of Corinne over the measurements of that part of the human body which, except among some tropical tribes, is kept covered in public."

In other words, Sokolsky does not approve of PIFFLE.

I think that George is all wrong about his evaluation of the "important."

I think that what I usually call "piffle" is every bit as important as any great pronouncement of Stalin, Truman, Eisenhower or Stevenson.

When it comes right down to cases, for what purpose do we have government, politics, armies, navies, the United Nations or about which people could argue, her programs would be dull.

"I've got to keep interest up," she said with a smile. "When I was a disc jockey, it was simple. At any crisis or lull in the program, I just played a phonograph record and retired temporarily to meditate. I've got no records to play on TV."

There — a whole piece about Laraine Day without a mention of how it feels to be Leo Durocher's wife. Just between us she likes it.

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Fernando Lamas, the handsome Argentinean, is either "up there" — gesture, indicating the upper floors — or "in the cellar." These moods in which he doesn't talk may last two days.

"But I am by myself. I don't bother anybody," Fernando defended himself, "and when I am working, I am very happy."

Lamas thus has plenty of cause to be happy, and seemed it the day we lunched. He was co-starring with Liz Taylor in "The Girl Who Had Everything," his fourth movie for M-G-M, and the studio has two more planned for him.

"What do we get out of this job?" Fernando asked philosophically. "We don't get money," a reference to high taxes. "We live better than many people. But mainly we have the satisfaction of a good, juicy role once in a while."

Too, there is the satisfaction of recognition, admitted Lamas, who has lean, strong features, brown eyes, and wavy, graying hair. In Argentina, where he made 22 movies, he was a star. He enjoyed the usual red-carpet treatment and the attention of fans.

But here, a year ago, he was still practically unknown; his first Hollywood movie, "Rich, Young and Pretty," hadn't been released. An associate bought tickets for him to an ice-skating show. Jostled, elbowed, and unrecognized on the way in, Fernando found himself sitting behind a pillar.

At that instant he knew what he missed in Hollywood: recognition. He decided he'd never go to that show again. But this year a fancy invitation to its premiere came to him, unsolicited. He sat in the front row, was "Mr. Lamas" to all concerned — and Fernando admits he enjoyed this.

Fernando is tall and energetic;

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Complete Phone Service — The Vienna telephone service now offers a fairy tale, a joke of the day, stock quotations, a daily dinner menu, an information bureau and a tune on which to tone a violin. That's nothing new, America tried that out years ago back home in Whortleberry Creek. It flopped. The bedtime story operator gave us Mother Goose when we asked for Hans Christian Andersen. We can remember vividly our experience with the forerunner of the Vienna service. Central had given us the Anderson Pans Pressing Company when we asked for Andersen, the fairy-tale man, and we had called for the complaint operator.

"Look, I am trying to get Cinderella," we said.

"Zinda who?" she asked.

"Not Zinda. Cinder. You know... Cinderella and the glass slipper."

"We have Max Schipper, but there's an Irving Schipper," said the complaint operator.

"Schipper," we repeated. "Remember Cinderella? ... the pumpkin coach? ... and the six mice ... huh? ... yes, six mice."

"That number has been changed," she insisted, as we tore our hair.

"Okay, make it seven mice ... They were turned into a team of dapple gray coach horses, repunctuated by finger snaps. Orphaned early, he dived with various uncles (one was an Argentine stage star) and grandparents. He had no mother to run to when confronted by some schoolboy problem like the theft of his pencil. His depressions now, he thinks, are not really moods but "thinking how to solve this or that problem."

As for Lana Turner, his rumored love interest: "She is not free, I am not free. So how can I discuss any future?" Lana, at last report, had established Nevada residence, presumably for a divorce. Fernando said his wife, who is here with their five-year-old daughter, will file for a decree. He added, when asked, that Lana is more even-tempered than he is.

It is now certain that Adlai Stevenson has lost the shoe-repairmen's vote ... Commenting on the condition of footwear in this campaign, Elmer Twitchell declares with heat, "What America needs is a President who doesn't WEAR SHOES!" ... Neva Jane Langley, the new Miss America, is on tour and if she shows up in any city the same night Ike or Adlai are making an appearance they are sunk ... Mrs. America has also been named, and she is Mrs. Evelyn Schenk of Irvington, N. J. ... But if a husband in such a case gets any idea this makes him MISTER AMERICA there can be serious trouble. ... Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca have some of the best sketches on video, say we ... The 1953 Miss America will earn $50,000 ... Being a Miss America constitutes, obviously, a bare existence ...

Regional FBI Chief Speaks Of Activities

Cremas—Members of the Pocono Mountain Rotary Club heard an address this week by a Philadelphia agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Main speaker at the weekly meeting was Arthur Cornelius Jr., special agent in charge of the Philadelphia area covering 43 eastern Pennsylvania counties.

Cornelius discussed the four branches of services covered by the bureau on a nationwide scale. He cited true cases in the fields of identification, laboratory examination of evidence, training service for law enforcement and the investigation of federal violations and internal security.

The speaker emphasized the FBI's willingness to cooperate with all local law enforcement agencies, particularly in cases involving interstate crimes.

Pocono Mountain Rotarians announced at the meeting the 100 per cent fulfillment of their Thursday assignment as aerial observers at the Skytop ground observation post.

Plans are now being made by several members of the club to attend the Fall conference at Iron Temple in Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 19, when H. J. Brunner, president of Rotary International, will be guest of honor and principal speaker.

Bullitt Buys Bodkin Lodge Near Cresco

Orville H. Bullitt of Whitman, Pa., prominent Philadelphia financier, manager of the Philadelphia Savings Fund Society, and brother of former ambassador William C. Bullitt, has purchased a Pocono Mountain lodge near Cresco, according to Preliminary Inc., the National Real Estate Clearing House, marketing agents.

The nine-acre property, with a small rustic lodge, guest apartments and studio, is the summer home and studio of Sally G. Bodkin, internationally recognized sculptress, of Great Neck, Long Island. John deZ. Hamilton, Philadelphia broker, handled the sale of the property.

The lodge, set into the slope of Devil's Hole Mountain, overlooks a distant view of the Delaware Water Gap. A porch extends for 38 feet across the front of the house. The living room and bedroom are redwood paneled with crossbeams of native wood, and both have tremendous stone fireplaces. There are two guest apartments, the two-room studio building, a garage and a screened summer house beside a trout brook which flows through the property.

The land, four acres of which are woodland, lies at an 1800-foot elevation. Grounds around the house are landscaped.

Burgess To Open Extension To Community Jewelry Store

Burgess Hal Harris of Stroudsburg will do the honors this morning officially opening Community Jewelry Store at Sixth and Main Sts. Ceremony is slated for 10 a.m.

The occasion marks the dedication of an 18-foot extension to the building owned by Jack Muehlhan, operator of a shoe repair store on S. 6th St. and owner of the building which recently saw the birth of two new business establishments.

Community located in Stroudsburg in 1938 and have been at their present location five years. The extension, to the rear of the store, makes possible better merchandising and opens the display area.

Dorothy Masters who has been with the firm for four and a half years, the past two as manager, was among those to supervise installation of modern lighting and display fixtures this week. A host of awards will be given today and tomorrow at 9 p.m. $500 in prizes will be awarded.

Herman L. Lax is supervisor of the store and Sam Weinstein is advertising director. Thomas Somers serves as assistant manager and head of the credit department, while Gertrude Raish, manager, and Betty Kemmerer, assistant, comprise the office staff. Jimmy Bonser is in charge of the warehouse.

Stroudsburg's J.C. Penney store at Sixth and Main Sts. is marking its 27th birthday this week.

Ed Doran, now a salesman in the furniture department of Sears-Roebuck, was the first manager and opened the store in 1925. He held that position until 1939 and Lawrence Ross of East Stroudsburg became manager, serving until his retirement in July, 1951. Max Stadfield, present manager, assumed the reins at that time.

The Penney store formerly was known as the Wallace Store and was located for 15 years in the eastern wing of the building where the ladies' apparel division now is located. The Sixth St. section was occupied by Acme Stores and in 1940, when Acme moved to the southeast corner of Sixth and Main, Penney's gained the entire area. Last November Penney's remodeled and added a basement department.

Lamont Hornbeck, native of Stroudsburg has returned to this community to assume the drug-gist position with the local Rea and Derick store at 578 Main St. Hornbeck replaces Harold Leininger who assumes a position as buyer with Hess Bros., Allentown, after 17 years with Rea and Derick the last 14 in Stroudsburg.

The new drugist is a World War Two veteran, having served with the U.S. Army ground forces in Europe. After graduation from Stroudsburg High School he matriculated at Temple University School of Pharmacy, receiving his degree in 1943. He is married and the father of a four and a half year old son, Lamont III. His mother, Mrs. Florence Hornbeck resides in Stroudsburg.

Hornbeck has been with the Rea and Derick chain 14 years. While attending local schools he worked on a part-time basis and joined them as drugist after graduating from Temple. He comes here from Danville where he was with a Rea and Derick store.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Poor Elsie Stanford—who always scoots when anybody tries to brag her up, who disappears like magic the minute a photographer appears, who always has something to see to in the kitchen when the bouquets are being handed out in the club meeting room.

They surely caught up with her last night. There she was painting ceilings, when Mrs. Mansbach called up and asked her to come out to meet her house guest. So she wiped the paint off her hands and came—to find a lot of her co-workers assembled to pay her tribute on being chosen for the Rush award.

And then the photographer arrived. No matter how she protested, nobody paid the least bit of attention. She hadn't worn her ear-rings—somebody took them off and put them on her. Somebody else decided pearls would add a touch.

Then to cap the climax they handed her a bouquet of red roses. "Just like Cinderella!" she was saying when she snapped the picture. I hope it does her justice—though neither words nor pictures could do that—not even when accompanied by sweet music.

Anyway, she lived through it, and last I saw she seemed to be enjoying it thoroughly.

An invitation was extended to members of the Monroe County Club to visit their show to be held Sept. 25.

Mrs. Robert Stadden showed a specimen of the Franklinian A-Lata 'Maha tree which they have in their garden and which she described thus:

"In 1777 John Bartram, Pennsylvania naturalist, went with an exploring expedition through the South and in Georgia, along the A-Lata 'Maha River, they came upon a grove of trees around 30 feet high, covered with their exquisite white blooms. They had never seen it nor was it listed in any publication, so Bartram brought back some of the young trees and planted them on his Philadelphia estate. Since the tree had no name, he called it for Benjamin Franklin, his life-long friend. In 1790, this original grove of trees was again visited, but since then, no one has seen these trees growing in the wild, although many expeditions have searched the banks of the A-Lata 'Maha for them."

"Franklinian trees must be started from seedlings, gathered from Bartram's Gardens. We have had our tree for three years. It was about four feet high when we got it in the Spring and it bloomed last August. It is now seven feet tall. It usually blooms late in August, but is late this year. It has been found to be hardy around New York and in some places near Boston, and blooms until hard frost."

Mrs. Marjorie Canfield introduced the speaker, Mrs. Elwood Grant, who in pursuing her subject, "Flower Arrangements," emphasized the fact that love of

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Middle-aging it on Wednesday at Wyckoff's, I met Lucie Demetriou, one of our former employees, who, with her parents, was greeting local friends. Lucie is now residing in North Bergen, N. J., and writing for a magazine. She promised to forward details later, and I'll pass them along. In the meantime, we all wish her well . . . It isn't just music that goes 'round and 'round these giddy days. We're all doing it at Wyckoff's, in a mad scramble of preparation for our forthcoming fashion shows. After store hours yesterday Mrs. Charles Bieler, chairman of the Pen Argyl show arrived with her models for Monday evening, September 15th, in the Pen Argyl National Bank Hall is being sponsored by the public welfare committee of the Woman's Club . . . Beatrice Gorgy and Amy Ellenberger have returned from New York where they spent two busy days placing orders for additional Fall merchandise. You could go far before finding a lovelier collection of scarfs, handkerchiefs, neckwear and bowties than is now being shown in our accessories department. Incidentally, if you're voting for style, those finger bandings in various materials and shades of gray, deserve a big X on your ballot . . . Did you notice our new store hours, effective Monday? The store will open at 9:30 a. m. and close at 5:30, except on Saturday when the closing time will be 9 p. m. Also beginning Monday, the Wyckoff Shopper broadcast will be heard from 9:45 to 10 a. m.—fifteen minutes later than at present . . . Jack LaBar, head of our electrical appliance department tells me I slipped up badly the other morning. It seems that several mothers of the audience wept sadly into their dishwater all the while I was reading "A Letter to My Son's Teacher." To Jack's way of thinking, this would have been the perfect spot for a commercial about Venida tissue. Wonder if it's too late to mention that we do sell it in nations at 33¢ a box, six boxes for $1.75? . . . Did you ever stop to consider that others take stock of your compact whenever you're taking stock of yourself? The mirror may reflect your features, but the compact itself reflects your personality. So, if you like very feminine, jewel-like accessories, consider the new vanity cases just arrived in our cosmetics department. Of cloisonne, mother of pearl, jeweler's metals, and French enamel, these sell from $1 to $5. They'll take the shine from your nose, but put a sparkle in your eyes . . . Seems funny to go into the advertising department and see Mable Anderson "visiting." She'll be back in another month, she says, which is the cheeriest news of the day . . . Be sure to hear the Shopper broadcast at 9:30 today and learn about the Sears 66th anniversary sale direct from the manager, Henry Kresge. And do come in to see for yourself the numerous values of this "very SPECIAL occasion."

Educational Fund Raised By Adventists

"American youngsters have the best education facilities in the world", Pastor Russell R. Adams, pastor of the Stroudsburg Seventh Day Adventist Church, Second St., told his congregation in announcing a special missions extension offering for this coming Saturday.

Urging members to share their privileges with children of other, less fortunate lands, the minister disclosed that the local church would join other Adventist groups in North America in a drive to establish or enlarge at least five overseas schools.

With a total mission contribution of $5,377,515 recorded for the first half of 1952, North American Adventist Church, including the Stroudsburg church, will devote offerings received Saturday to a special fund for the extension of educational and medical work.

Areas slated to receive financial assistance from the offering for the erection of schools, Pastor Adams stated, are the Philippines, Mexico, Peru, and New Britain in the South Seas. Medical work in Tokyo and Bagdad is also scheduled for improvement.

Reports of growing missions activities in foreign and home areas will be given Saturday during the regular Sabbath school program beginning at 9:30 a.m. The Sabbath school will be directed by Mrs. Harold Topakyan, superintendent. Announcement of a special Sabbath School Centennial program of the local church for September 27 is expected to be made during the regular weekly program Saturday.

Pastor Adams will be the speaker at the morning worship service. He will be assisted at the service by Mr. Harold Topakyan and Mr. Howard Kitchen, local lay elders.

L-M Workers To Contribute To Charity

The employees of Line Material Co. in East Stroudsburg will demonstrate for a second straight year their awareness of civic responsibility by participating in "Good Neighbor Day" to help sustain local charities.

This is an unusual method of raising money for Monroe County Community Chest, Red Cross and other agencies.

The week of September 15 they will work four hours overtime. Their earnings actually six hours pay because it's overtime will be put in the Line Material Employees Charity Fund. Salaried employees will donate eight hours pay. This fund is allocated to the various agencies by an employee committee.

The plan, which is entirely voluntary, was introduced at Line Material last year and resulted in 100 per cent participation by employees and an increase of over 100 per cent in contributions. As an example, 250 employees last year contributed $1,750 to the Community Chest alone, an average of over $7 each and more than double the contribution the year before.

The employees like the plan because it eliminates other fund raising solicitations during the year, takes no actual cash out of their pockets, and doesn't affect their budget. Yet, at the same time, they can afford to give more money to worthwhile charities.

In addition, the company donates one day's profits which is split up among the various soliciting agencies.

Dr. Harold S. Pond will be out of town from Sept. 3 to Sept. 22.—Adv.

Giants Gain Full Length In Flag Dash

New York (AP)—The oncharching New York Giants continued to close in on the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, to cut the Dodgers' margin to three and a half games. The Dodgers bowed, 11-8, to the Chicago Cubs.

Home runs by Alvin Dark and Sal Yvars and a two-run pinch single by Bob Elliott were the big blows for the Giants, but it was an error by catcher Joe Garagiola that gave the New Yorkers what proved to be the winning run in the seventh inning.

Splendid Relief
The Giants needed a splendid relief job by the brilliant Hoyt Wilhelm to pull the game out of the fire. The young knuckleballer replaced Max Lanier in the seventh inning with the Giants leading 4-2, the bases jammed with Pirates and only one out.

Making his 62nd appearance of the year, Wilhelm calmly struck out the dangerous Gus Bell and threw a third strike past home run king Ralph Kiner after a passed ball had allowed the Pittsburgh runner from third to cross the plate. That cut the Giants' lead to 4-3.

The sweep of the three game series with the Pirates ran the Giants' winning streak to four straight and left them with 16 games left to play. The Dodgers have 15 remaining on their schedule.

Sal Maglie, who pitched the first five innings for the Giants was the winner. The Giants collected eight hits off losing Howie Pollet, scoring their fifth and winning run in the seventh.

Cubs Inflict Serious Setback On Dodgers As Top Club Fails To Earn Single Counter, 11-7

Brooklyn (AP)—Brooklyn's National League lead dwindled to three and a half games yesterday as the Chicago Cubs walloped them, 11-7, in a loosely played affair that saw the hard-pressed pace setters fail to earn a single tally.

Seven Errors
The defeat, together with the New York Giants' 5-4 triumph over Pittsburgh, shaved another full game off the Dodgers' once apparently safe 10 and one-half game bulge. The Dodgers face the St. Louis Cardinals in a night game today and the Giants engage the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader. Seven errors were intermingled with 22 hits including "Hank" Sauer's 37th home run and a grand slammer by Andy Pafko. Chicago's three errors hurt more than Brooklyn's four with the Cubs earning 10 of their runs in a vicious 15-hit attack on Billy Loes and five other members of Brooklyn's wobbly pitching staff.

Although he allowed no earned runs and only seven hits, Bob Rush required the assistance of Warren Hacker to register his 15th victory against 12 defeats. Thanks to a seven-run outburst in the fourth, Rush was leading, 9-0, and had allowed only one hit when Roy Smalley fumbled George Shuba's roller with two out in the fifth.

Smalley hit his fifth homer off Clyde King in the fifth and with Joe Lantieri doubling in the eighth, Sauer doubled home Frankie Baumholtz to give him 120 runs batted in for the season.

The victory was Rush's 15th against 12 losses. The defeat was charged to young Loes. His record is 13-8.

Indians Pull To Within Half Length Of Yanks

Cleveland (AP)—The Cleveland Indians moved to within a half game of the league-leading New York Yankees yesterday on Bobby Avila's fourth inning home run and Mike Garcia's 20th victory, a two-hit 1-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Scoreless Streak
Ferris Fain, the American League's leading hitter, got both hits off Garcia, who registered his third straight shutout. Fain beat out a bunt in the first inning and singled in the fourth.

Garcia now has hurled 28 consecutive scoreless innings. This is his second season in a row among the 20-game winners. Yesterday's sweep of a three-game series with the A's gave Cleveland a string of eight straight victories, their best stretch of the year, and the longest in the league. The Yankees, idle yesterday had no chance to defend their lead. Harry Byrd, the first right-hander to face the Indians since Labor Day, was the losing pitcher. He allowed only five hits, one of these by Garcia. His record now is 14-13.

He had given up only two hits before Avila led off the fourth inning with his fifth homer, a blast into the left field stands. Philadelphia . . . 000 000 000-0 2 0

Pensions To Be Increased Next Month

Social security checks mailed to Monroe County people the first of this month were the last under the old rates of payment, it was announced this week by the Easton office.

Marie T. Miller, manager of the Easton social security office, said payments due to these same people in October will amount to $46.00.

Larger payments are being made as a result of changes in the social security law last July. Most retired workers will receive increases ranging from $5 to $8.60.

Increases for dependents and survivors will be less than those for retired workers. In most cases, the office said, these increases will be about $2 to $5.

"As an example," Miss Miller said, "a retired insured worker whose August payment mailed this month is $40, based on earnings received since 1936, will get a September payment of $45. A worker who got $68.50 in the current check will get $77.10 the first week in October."

It will not be necessary, Miss Miller pointed out, for persons now getting old-age and survivors insurance payments to call or come to the Easton social security office to get the increases.

The checks they will receive early in October will automatically carry the increased amounts, she said.

YMCA Gives Outline Of Building Plan

Directors of the Monroe County YMCA entered into a contract with architects Rinker and Kiefer at a special meeting at the Y yesterday afternoon to prepare plans and specifications for the new building project based on a three-unit proposal.

It is expected the plans will be ready for submission to the board early in November and, on approval, the directors will advertise for bids.

Unit No. 1 covers the new main building which will be approximately 98 feet by 48 feet. The structure will occupy the present front lawn and will extend to within some seven feet from the Main St. sidewalk.

Unit No. 2 will be the swimming pool and showers and will occupy part of the space covered by the present main structure.

Unit No. 3 will be the new gymnasium which will adjoin the pool and shower unit.

Present plans call for retaining the present gymnasium building which will be utilized for various purposes, such as auditorium for meetings and other activities.

Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, chairman of the building committee, explained the terms of the contract with the local architects which are based on those of the American Institute of Architects, recognized nationally, he said.

By utilizing the unit plan for the general building project, it will be possible to construct each one individually without interfering with the general operation of the Y, it was explained.

The directors have adopted Unit No. 1, which is the main structure facing Main St., as the first to be constructed. By doing this, it was pointed out, operations of the Y program will be normal, the other two units being built when funds are available.

However, it was explained, hopes are for the completion of the entire project, which is estimated to represent an expenditure of $525,000 with $250,000 available at this time.

A financial campaign is planned with Holt Wyckoff and Clifford B.

Come On In and Order One... Today!

There are many people in this community who want a Cadillac ever so badly—and who are almost persuaded to order one——but who, for one reason or another, are just holding back and waiting.

To all these people we wish to say: "Come on in and order your Cadillac today!"

Every day you wait is simply postponing, still further, the wonderful time when you can enjoy the many delightful things a Cadillac will bring you.

There is, for instance, the deep feeling of pride which comes from owning a car which is universally acknowledged to be the Standard of the World...

... the great satisfaction that comes from driving a car so quiet you can "whisper and be heard"; so easy to handle that driving is no conscious effort at all; so comfortable and restful that a day at its wheel is the essence of relaxation...

... the comforting confidence that comes from knowing your car is so soundly-engineered and so beautifully-built that you can keep it and enjoy it over almost any period you may care to designate...

... and, finally, the happy knowledge that you probably paid less for your Cadillac than hundreds of thousands of people who are driving other makes of cars—for there are numerous models produced by other manufacturers which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac!

Isn't all this too much to miss for even one needless day? Owners of Cadillacs will tell you it is—out of their own experience. Time and again, people who have just moved up to Cadillac have said to us—"Why did I wait so long to enjoy all this?"

That's why we urge you to come in today and start down the happy road to Cadillac ownership. You have already missed too much—too long!
